

"Since I was little I had the ball on my feet. When I knew about Soccer Without Borders, I knew I wanted to play. It clicked right away, I said 'I got this!' I'm going to attend the University of Northern Colorado. I want to major in something that helps kids around the world. Since we grew up in a refugee camp, it's a huge part of my story and my background. I know other kids go through that experience. My ancestors had to die running away so, I want to become a person that not only my parents are proud of but my people are proud of."
